Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 14 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Tuesday fine and warm for many, wetter in northwest UK.

This Evening and Tonight:
The odd shower across northern Scotland, mainly at first. Most other areas dry with clear periods, and turning quite chilly in some rural areas, perhaps with the odd mist patch. Southeastern parts of England probably cloudier and fairly warm.

Tuesday:
Cloud in southeast England should thin, leaving much of England and Wales quite sunny and warm. Northern Ireland and Scotland turning cloudier, rain and strong winds reaching some northwestern parts.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Very warm or hot for southeast England Wednesday, before thunderstorms develop overnight. Further thunderstorms then possible to end the week. Cooler, fresher elsewhere, with a few showers.
